WILSON AND COX

Former Governor and Lieutenant Governor Head Bldg
CompanyGreat Southern Fire Insurance Company Absorbs National Industrial Company

Negotiations which have been on for the past three weeks were closed at Louisville when officers of the Great Southern Fire Insurance Company and the National Industrial Fire Insurance Company signed contracts which will result in the consolidation of these two companies, both home concerns.

The officers of the consolidated companies will be the same as those of the Great Southern headed by President Augustus E. Wilson and Secretary W. H. Cox.

Announcement of the closing of the deal was made Wednesday by W. H. Cox, Secretary and Treasurer, and A. J. Heiker, Manager. All that remains to be done is the ratification of the deal by the stockholders of the two concerns. This, it is stated, will bring stock subscriptions for the merged companies up to $400,000.

The consolidated concern will be known as the Great Southern Fire Insurance Company. The company now operating under that name has an authorized capitalization of $1,000,000, while that of the National Industrial Company has an authorized capital stock of $100,000. Both companies have been in the finishing process of organization.

The deal for their consolidation, it is stated, will bring stock subscriptions for the merged companies up to $400,000.

The Secretaryship will of course compel Mr. Cox to spend most of his time in Louisville where the home office is.

Thus, the largest life insurance company in the South, the Citizens National, has a Maysville man, Hon. C. D. Pearce, as President, while Mr. Cox is Secretary of the largest fire insurance company in the South.

White Serge either strictly tailored or trimmed in black or trimmed in white, $29 Suits $19½. $28 Suits $17½. $15 Suits $10.
$25 White Serge $15. One suit has heavy lace collar and cuffs with under-lay of primrose satin. Another suit has delicate blue agaric collar and trimmings of large and small ivory button.

DRESSES at $4.98; Formerly $6½ and $7½.

DRESSES at $3.98, Formerly $5 and $6.

Every dress greets you with the assurance it belongs to the season of 1912. Not one in the lot soiled or shop worn. All are fresh as the most fastidious woman can demand. Too many—that is the whole story of the price cut. The styles are so varied individual description is impossible, but as a general outline will mention lace and embroidery, panels, medallions, dainty tucks and soft white lingerie cloth. They are dresses you will be eager to own and they are reduced while three months of wearing time is still ahead.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT,
WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
JAMES S. SHERMAN.

It is one of the stock remarks of the present time to say, "This is the last National Convention," much as we say it is "a bad day," or "fine weather."

Only loose thinking would conceive of such a mistake. This is not the last national convention, for a very good reason—the Democracy will stand to block the way.

To install a presidential primary that will mean anything that will be binding on all of the states and all of the parties, means a national election law.

The Republican party tried the last time some twenty years ago to enact a national election law. The present era of passion and tumult is as the sighing of the spring breezes compared to a Kansas cyclone with what happened when it was proposed. One of the spectacular features of the fight was when the Democratic members of the house of representatives, headed by Hon. "Buck" Kilgour of Texas, kicked down the door of the assembly chamber in order to break a quorum.

The Republican party will never attempt to pass a national election law, primary or otherwise, that does not secure for the nation a vote of every male above 21 years of age without regard to race, color or previous condition of servitude, and without the interference or domination of state officials. Those are the historic principles and the policy of the Republican party. Other parties besides the Democratic party may spring up that are ready to abandon these things, but the Republican party is and will be true to its history and to itself.

Call it as the Democrats have done in the past "bayonet rule," call the measure providing it a "force bill," as the Democracy has done in the past, that is the only law that the Republican party will permit to be put into the national laws, and that is just the law that the Democracy will never permit to pass if it can prevent it.

And just as long as national election laws means federal control of elections and an enforcement of the Fourteenth amendment it is improbable that there will be any abolition of the national convention.—Commercial Tribune.

Those who are familiar with the cost of independent political movements assert that it would require $5,000,000 to lay the foundation for a Roosevelt movement. Where can he get it?

Just now it seems that about the only people Roosevelt can absolutely count on in his third term, third ticket movement are Johnson and Heney of California, Medill McCormick of Chicago and those two ever-present members of the "tennis cabinet," Gifford Pinchot and Jimmy Garfield. It is not easy to build a great new party out of material like that.—Times Star.

Well educated, widely read, a power and leader in the affairs of his state, the best presiding officer that the United States Senate ever had, an unshakable pillar of American patriotism and party loyalty, of unblemished political record and blameless private life, Mr. Sherman is the dignified, capable, well-equipped sort of party leader, of which there are barely half a dozen examples left in the Republican organization today.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Nana Sahib, a Man of Mystery

THE name "Nana Sahib," a half century ago, was one of terror and loathing all over the civilized world. Today Americans have half forgotten it. Several million dusky Orientals secretly or openly hailed Nana Sahib as a deliverer and a true patriot. A still larger number of white people declared him a fiend. He was the foremost figure in the Sepoy Mutiny. His terrible work ended, he apparently vanished from the face of the earth. His name was not Nana Sahib. That was merely his title. (His name was Dhondo Punt). He was the son of a high caste Hindoo and was born about 1825. When he was a baby he was adopted by Bhajee Rou, prince of the Maharattas; and in 1851 he succeeded his adopted father as prince. Bhajee had been lord of wide estates and had received a yearly pension of $40,000 from the British government. At his death the pension was stopped and the government seized much of his land.

This angered Nana Sahib, who had hoped to inherit all of Bhajee's wealth. He sent an agent to England to urge his rights. But all he could secure from the British was permission to hold the barren title of prince and to rule the fortress town of Bithoor, near Cawnpore.

If Nana felt resentment at this lopping off of his power he showed no outward sign of it. He came of a race that knew how to hide its feelings and to await the right moment for revenge.

So, instead of sulking in his fortress or joining in the thousand foolish, hopeless native plots that were forever stirred up against the white men, he became an "English" as he could. He spoke the language and tried to follow the customs of the British. He mingled as much as he was allowed to in English society at the India garrison towns. When English youths turned up their noses at his pretensions or sneered at him as a mere native, he bore all such slights patiently and redoubled his efforts to copy the ways of his white masters. He succeeded. Every one believed him devoted to England.

Then, in 1857, came the Sepoy Mutiny. Most of England's white regiments had been summoned away from India to the Crimean War, leaving the country chiefly garrisoned by Sepoy, or native troops. The religious fanaticism of these native soldiers was so cleverly worked upon by Nana and other secret agents that they rose in a body against the English.

Nana, when the mutiny broke out, declared himself ready to die in the defense of his British friends. They trusted him absolutely. But as soon as the uprising showed signs of success he cast aside the mask of loyalty, placed himself at the head of a Sepoy army, and proceeded to wreak horrible vengeance for his real or fancied wrongs.

He slew every white man, woman or child that fell into his hands. Then he marched against the plucky little British garrison at Cawnpore. The garrison held out as long as it could, then on Nana's promise to spare them all and to send them to a place of safety, the starving white men at length surrendered. This was on June 27, 1857. Nana ordered the garrison to march out of the city and to board a line of boats awaiting them at the river's edge. No sooner were the boats afloat than by Nana's orders the helpless occupants were fired upon. Nearly every one of them was shot or drowned. Those who reached land alive suffered the worst fate of all. The women and children had been herded separately in an enclosed space. They were now killed and their bodies thrown into a great well.

Battle after battle Nana fought with the white troops during the next few months, almost always being beaten in fair fight, but continuing to massacre any small detachments of English he could find. His wily brain and heartless cruelty made him a scourge to the British until the whole Mutiny was stamped out.

Then England wreaked fearful vengeance on her crushed foes. Native leaders were tied to the cannon's mouth and blown to pieces. Other cruelties were inflicted that could be partly excused only when one remembered that the avengers were mad with anguish over the brutal murders of their wives and children.

But, while other and lesser conspirators suffered punishment, Nana Sahib escaped. To this day no Englishman knows what became of him, whether he died years ago or is still living in luxurious safety in some Oriental land.

Art Steel Tube Bed

Do you see how the square cross-roads at top of head and foot beautify this bed? Imagine this design with round tubing in those positions. Would not the result be "ordinary" and monotonous?
It is just such details of clever and artistic designing that have made our steel beds so popular. And the very large corner posts with brass caps all combine to make this an unusually artistic bed.

Moreover this bed is as good as it looks. Because it is made of drawn steel tubing, very light in weight—extremely strong.
A child can move this bed with the greatest ease. Come in and see this bed. Then you will realize how good it is.

$22,000 PRIZE FOR WORLD'S FASTEST MOTOR BOAT

The Wm. Wrigley Jr. Trophy for the power boat championship of the world represents over $22,000. It is a perpetual trophy to be won each year by the club whose motor speed boat entry makes the best three out of five races in competition open to the world, free for all boats under 40 feet in length.

It is a reproduction in silver of a "Flying Mercury" presenting to Neptune a hydroplane motor speed boat. Neptune with his trident, dolphins and water surrounding him in bronze. The round pedestal is of green marble. The figure of Mercury and the model speed boat contain 1,000 ounces of sterling silver. The trophy stands 5 feet 6 inches high. The base is 47 inches in diameter.

Mr. Wrigley will provide annually a replica of this big $25,000 trophy, which becomes the personal property of the winner of each year's races. To provide this trophy annually will require an endowment of about $17,500, thus giving Mr. Wrigley's trophy a

DOING THEIR DUTY

SCORES OF MAYSVILLE READERS ARE LEARNING THE DUTY OF THE KIDNEYS

To filter the blood is the kidney's duty.

When they fail to do this the kidneys are weak.

Backache and other kidney ills may follow.

Help the kidneys do their work.

Use Doan's Kidney Pills—the tested kidney remedy.

Proof of their worth in the following:
A. Sories, Locksmith, Aberdeen, O., says: "My experience with Doan's Kidney Pills leads me to recommend them for cases of backache and weak kidneys. The action of my kidneys were irregular and the kidney secretions contained sediment. I had backache and when stooping it was difficult for me to straighten. I could always feel on my kidneys. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they stopped the trouble and my kidneys became strong."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McIlwain Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Lovers of Music to Be Given a Rare Treat

It will indeed be gratifying news to lovers of music in Maysville to learn that they will soon have an opportunity to hear Miss Mary Dan Harbeson, one of Kentucky's most famous singers, who will give a concert in this city on Wednesday evening, July 10th, at the Baptist Church.

Miss Harbeson is a daughter of ex-Judge James P. Harbeson of Flemingsburg, and has gained distinction and fame in many states by her sweet voice. She will be assisted by her brother, Mr. Robert Harbeson.

A concert singers the Harbesons have been in great demand, and Maysville is indeed fortunate to be included in their itinerary for this season. They have many friends in this city who have for a number of years wanted an opportunity to hear them sing, and no doubt, the large auditorium will be crowded to its capacity on this occasion.

GRAND OPERA STAR ON CHAUTAUQUA PROGRAM.

MME. LE BRUN, who is to appear at our Chautauqua as the star of the Le Brun Grand Opera company, has a repertoire of fifty operas and sings in four different languages. She has appeared at the Wagner festival performance at Worms as Elsa in "Lohengrin" and as Elizabeth in "Tannhauser" and as Marguerite in "Faust" at Nantes, France; also took part in a festival performance at Trieste. Mme. Le Brun studied under Julia Gavarotti in Milan at the age of eighteen. She also studied under Ugo Angeli, her studies, therefore, being all in the pure old Italian school. She came to America with the Royal Italian Opera company and played a season in New York. Here Mr. Henry Savage heard her and engaged her for a three years' contract as prima donna of his then English Grand Opera company, after which she returned to Europe. For the past three years she has had her own company, has made New York her headquarters and has played all the big cities of America.

OUR WEEKLY SPORT LETTER

BY C. H. ZIMMER.

Cincinnati, O., June 27th, 1912.

Considerable gloom has settled over the Western cities of the National League during the past week for the reason that the four teams making up this section of the circuit are now engaged in the thankless work of holding one another down in the race for the flag, while New York, unhampered by the conditions that prevail in the West, is just naturally walking all over the other Eastern teams and increasing its hold on the high place in the procession. It is promised that after the Giants reach this section, sometime after the Fourth of July, they will enjoy something of the shoot-the-chutes sensation, for which the four Western teams going better now than at any time this season, the Giants will step no more than one banana skin in doing their cake-walking stunt. Whether they will be able to breeze into the Pennant Port as easily as they now are going is extremely doubtful—in fact, it is far from a settled fact that they will be in the lead at all when the final game is played. However that may be, the Cubs, Pirates and Reds are going to stick right on the job, with some prospect of yanking the Metropolitans back to a lower position than they have been occupying in the past five weeks.

With the exception of a few games next week, including two contests at Pittsburgh on the Fourth of July, the Reds will be at home during the greater portion of July. Four Sunday games are booked for the present series at home, these including one with St. Louis on June 30th; Brooklyn, July 7th; Philadelphia, July 14th and New York, July 21st. Judging by performances given by the team since its return from the East, there will be a decided advance in percentage during these four weeks of sojourn on the old family lot. This improved work is due largely to better pitching that O'Day's twirlers have been exhibiting since getting back home. Benton's work against Pittsburgh on Sunday and Benton's shut-out of the Chicagoans on Monday are two decidedly strong arguments to support the theory that the twirling staff is working better now than at any time this year. And with several youngsters coming in right along, the prospects are getting decidedly brighter for a hot finish.

That the Reds management is overlooking no bet in the pitching line is shown by the diligence of President Herrmann in following up all clues that seem to lead to good pitchers. The purchase of Pitcher Cramer of the Bluegrass, the gobbling up of Taylor of the late United States League, and the demand for the return of Bruck and Packard of Columbus, as soon as they can be spared, and the frequent trips of Coach Heinie Peitz to regions where classy twirlers are supposed to be sprouting, all bear evidence of the desire of the club to bolster up its own weak department—and before long that promises to be as strong as any other.

So successful was the recent racing season at Latonia, that it is being freely predicted that the entire racing game will enjoy a complete revival during the next two or three years.

with the one reservation, namely, that there will be no bookmakers at the track to take the odds. Now that local race followers have become accustomed to the operation of the pari-mutuel betting machines, not one who really loves the sport of horse racing would desire to go back to the days when races frequently were won in the betting shed, and when the majority of the "bankers" were rough-necks and otherwise more or less suspicious citizens. Under present conditions racing is clean and healthy, and so successful that Eastern turfmen are beginning to agitate the matter of again opening the tracks in their section, and under the same conditions that now govern racing in Kentucky.

The fight fans are packing their pajamas and tooth brushes preparatory to hiking to East Las Vegas, New Mexico, where Jack Johnson and Jim Flynn will battle for the world's heavyweight championship on the morning of the Fourth of July. The Governor gave out word earlier in the week that he would not interfere with the fight, provided gambling was stepped in Las Vegas and East Las Vegas from now until after the Fourth. Immediately the lid was clamped on, and from now until Independence Day you can't bet a peanut in those towns. Reports from both training camps declare the men to be in fine condition. Experts say that Johnson can be licked only in case he has gone back much since his fight with Jeffries, two years ago. If he's anywhere near as good now as he was then, the search for a "White man's hope" need not be stopped until after the fight.

The American athletes, who will compete in the Olympic games at Stockholm, have arrived at their destination and are finishing up their training in order to be in perfect shape when the first of the events in which they are entered are called next week. Several of the stars of the American team suffered slight accidents on board ship on the way over, but it is expected that all will be in perfect shape when the contests begin, and that Uncle Sam again will carry off a larger percentage of points than any other Nation. The games will continue the greater portion of July.

He told me that for seven years he hadn't stood on his feet, he spent $700 for doctor bills, and he only used one package of E20, and can run and jump like a boy. He was all smiles about E20." J. Jas. Wood & Son sell E20, a refined ointment for sore, aching, weary feet for 25c a jar.

BRYAN'S SHADOW

Darkens Baltimore Convention and He is the Great National Disturber

Nomination This Evening, With Clark and Wilson Leading

Dictator Bryan is overshadowing the Democratic convention at Baltimore and is filling the platform with his populist heresies.

Chairman Otto James made a great speech from his party's standpoint.

William Jennings Bryan led the Democratic convention into a declaration of progressiveness unheard of in political history.

A resolution introduced by him, which was passed by more than the required two-thirds majority, declared the convention opposed to the nomination of any candidate for President under obligation to J. Pierpont Morgan, Thomas F. Ryan, August Belmont, or any of the "privilege-seeking class."

Bryan combines with Wilson and may defeat Clark.

Candidates placed in nomination and may be named this afternoon or tonight.

Our Colored Citizens.

The Sewing Circle of the Bethel Baptist Church will give an entertainment tonight at the Church after the lecture by Rev. W. J. Hallon, giving "Seven Reasons Why Marriage is a Failure." The public is invited. A rare treat to all.

Mrs. John Taylor, Mrs. W. C. Patton, Rev. and Mrs. J. P. Bailey, Mrs. Alice Rouse, Miss Nora Word and others are attending the Women's Home Mission Association of the M. E. Church at Corydon.

A Permanent Cure For Chronic Constipation

Although those may dispute it who have not tried it, yet thousands of others, who speak from personal experience, assert that there is a permanent cure for chronic constipation. Some testify they were cured for as little as fifty cents, years ago, and that the trouble never came back on them, while others admit they took several bottles before a steady cure was brought about.

The remedy referred to is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It has been on the market for over a quarter of a century and has been popularized on its merits by one person telling another.

The fact that its strongest supporters are women and elderly people—the ones most persistently constipated—makes it certain that the claims regarding it as a permanent cure for constipation have not been exaggerated.

It is not violent like cathartic pills, salts or waters, but operates gently, without griping and without shock to the system. It contains tonic properties that strengthen the stomach and bowels muscles so that in time medicines of all kinds can be dispensed with and nature is again solely relied on.

Among the legions who testify to these facts are J. P. Blankenship, Sharon, Tenn., and Joseph L. Rogers, Commodore, Ky., and they always have a bottle of it in the house, for it is a reliable laxative for all the family from infancy to old age.

Anyone wishing to make a trial of this remedy before buying it in the regular way of a druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a large bottle (family size) can have a sample bottle sent to the home free of charge by simply addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 405 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Your name and address on a postal card will do.

CANNON THUNDERS

Against Atrocities of Modern Mormonism Before Chautauqua Assembly

The Chautauqua spirit has reached Maysville and hereafter every summer will not be complete and mentally enjoyable unless we have a whole week of these intellectual feasts of reason and flow of soul.

Yesterday's program was fully enjoyed both afternoon and evening. The afternoon was given over to the Carroll Glee Club and Miss Mary Agnes Doyle's monologue recital of "The Nest Egg," which was a gem of enjoyment.

Last night former Senator Frank J. Cannon of Utah, delivered his great lecture on "The Modern Mormon Kingdom." The Senator spoke ably and gave the inside facts of the greatest shame on our national honor today—"Mormonism." This belittling travesty on the Church and religion is a menace to every Christian ideal and virtue and Mr. Cannon does not cry out in vain.
